MR. SPEAKER

By W. A. de Graves

It won't be long now, Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday night, the Legislature Bob Andon was busy, Sir, getting out the declarations which must be signed before the members draw their salaries in demerits, a sure sign Mr. Speaker that the end of the session is not far off, and believe me, Mr. Speaker, none of the members were too busy to sign on the dotted line when the genial clerk is a good round the papers. A sign, Sir, that the minds of the members is wandering from legislation, in the night of a number of members' lobby. Mr. Speaker, gazing at a girl's soft ball team, and admitting the delivery and stance of the "Three Bred Stars" in a bright orange spring ensemble, and you can take it from this scribble, Mr. Speaker, that the members are not in the mood for legislation.

The Capital that the young lady was worth all the admiring comments they made, and that Mr. Speaker, had a touch of the blue about it. But apart from this, Sir, it was another day of real work, the House for the most part in committee, and the whole of the day through ball by Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, clearing before Saturday, Sir, for that is the day that now looms as seeing the end of the session, as this week the members have been sitting over the week, Mr. Speaker, and have made great interest in the matter of legislation that faced them at the beginning of the week.

ONE reason, sponsored by the Honourable member for Calgary, for the way the Legislature was held on Wednesday, Sir, the Honourable member, Mr. Speaker, the horseman of note, would have had the "Three Bred Stars" in a "Station Enrolment Act" amended so as to permit the use of good quality grade stations in districts where it is found, through investigation, that it is of the public interest to permit the use of such sites. The idea behind the motion, Mr. Speaker, was that there are many districts, especially among the bush homesteads, where funds do not run freely but where there are many acres to have a good grade of horses, Sir, and the Honourable member felt that they should be given some consideration and that smaller sites, Mr. Speaker, of good grade, but not necessarily of the best stock, should be permitted in those districts at fees which could be paid. Apparently there was some doubt as to the wisdom of the measure.

REVISE TAX RECOVERY ACT

In effect only in Edmonton, Calgary and Medicine Hat, the Tax Recovery Act underwent some revision in the legislature on Wednesday, when the House passed the bill in committee of the whole. These amendments provide that, if before October 1 the year subsequent to a caveat being filed, payment is made by the owner of the caveats of taxes, as well as costs, the caveats must be null and void. The amendments will not apply if the caveat passed before July 1 of the year, when amended they will take effect as from January 1, 1933.

Provision is made for a new section, stating that any penalty or interest on taxes or arrears of taxes, provided for under any other charter, shall be deemed to be a maximum which may be levied by bylaw. Provision should be extended to towns and villages, declared some members, as it now applies only to those cities desiring to do under it.

The committee finally got through with consideration of the bulky consolidation of the Town and Village Act. Many amendments to the consolidation were submitted before it finally passed. The committee also considered the transfer of duties of councils and municipal features to the provinces.

Do You Remember: 'WAY BACK WHEN' . . .

Edmonton's baseball team performed on a rough diamond located between what is now 103rd and 104th streets just north of Jasper avenue. In 1900 Edmonton residents were baseball conscious and the above aggregation of ball tossers, photographed in that year, drew the crowds with a scintillating brand of the favorite summer sport.

The team roster included such stars of yesteryear as Frank and Wallace Ball, Will McNamara, one-time mayor of Edmonton and John Howey, a member of The Bulletin editorial staff.

MAN SOUNDS FIRE ALARM; EIGHT ESCAPE

Floyd Govey Badly Burned in Rousing Sleepers in National Rooms

Severely burned about the head, face and arms while rousing the sleeping occupants of the National Rooms, 1045 9th street, when the place was ablaze early Thursday morning, Floyd Govey, Canadian National Railway brakeman, was rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital. His condition is not serious. Damage to the National Rooms, owned jointly by Stanley and Mrs. Dora Flora, reached the $1000 mark, the building and contents being insured for $5,000.

Starting from an overheated stove in the rear of the premises at 142 a.m., the flames made rapid headway before Govey, sleeping on the second floor, became aware of the blaze. Running through the house, he aroused Stanley Block, Mrs. Dora Flora, two children, Charles Curtis, William Pokski, John Thompson and another man, whose identity has not been learned, all of whom escaped from the burning room without serious injury.

Govey fought through flames to gain the doorway of the last room and made his way down the fire escape with the occupants. Bystanders noticed his severe burns and John Demichuk rushed him to the hospital in a car. Men and equipment from No. 2 and No. 5 fire halls, under Deputy Chief James McGregor, used three lines of hose to confine the flames to the rear of the building, where the fire first started.

M. Dugan, provincial Conservative leader on Thursday stated that he is appearing before the legislative committee on railways, telephones and irrigation, he had not stated the Edmonton telephone system had operated at a loss prior to 1922, but had said he had referred to the city utilities as a whole group for the purpose and including the street railway, the utilities as a whole, had shown a loss.

Ridiculous To Compare Codes Act With B.C.

Any comparison between the Alberta legislation providing for the establishment of a system of "special powers" similar to that of the National Recovery Act in the United States, with the British Columbia "Special Powers Act" such as has been approved by several provinces, is ridiculous, according to Premier J. E. Brown.

"It is rather ridiculous to compare our present legislation with the B.C. Act. The latter gives the legislature the power to provide for the regulation of industry and the administration will be limited to the encouragement of industry and the regulation mainly of three commodities and wages."

Names Committee To Proceed When Bill Is Passed

Disposition, Sanitation of Colony of River Dwellers, Other Routine Matters Discussed by Board.

Appointment of a committee of three of the city health board to negotiate with the school boards in the event of the legislation providing for the amalgamation of health services, was discussed, made by the health board at its regular meeting Wednesday. Members of the committee are Dr. Harold Orr, chairman of the board, Dr. R. B. Jenkins, medical health officer, and Aid. R. V. Bellamy.

This committee will only be called upon to negotiate with the school boards in the event of the legislation providing for the amalgamation of health services being passed by the board.

A letter received from the Edmonton Public School Board in connection with the board's stand on the amalgamation of health services was read at the meeting and, in part, as follows:

"WHERE SERVICES. "It is quite true that our board can discontinue its permissive service of public works, pointed out, that in the event of doing so until a satisfactory agreement has been made with the school boards of health to ensure that these services will be adequately carried out. Our board is legally advised, however, that at this time the Board of Public School Act is amended, it has no power to enter into such an agreement."

"With respect to your suggestion, that the initiative be taken to view that in accordance with a resolution of the city council, the school boards be invited to let us know what further steps they desire us to take in order to enable them to carry out the purpose of the legislation, it is noted that the school boards have already held with the city commissioners a meeting at which they required amendments, etc., were presented. These were confirmed in the same meeting, and we would therefore suggest that no further action be taken up with city council."

RIVER DWELLERS

The problem of the people of persons living in makeshift shacks along the river bank, the board of health, Dr. Jenkins, in a report on this situation, paying particular attention to the health of sanitation prevailing. The city council will also be asked when it intends taking this action.

It was the opinion of Dr. F. W. Crang that something should be done this spring to remove the river dwellers. If we are going to let them stop there, we are doing them some sanitary facilities, and a public health officer.

Dr. A. Jenkins opined that if these persons were living under unsanitary conditions they should be moved. It was a matter for city council to decide. Dr. Jenkins declared that the board had had signs placed at water springs in the area in question warning residents against using an impure supply.

If the residents "took root" it would be difficult to move them, said City Engineer A. W. Haslow. He felt some credit should be given the shack-dwellers, who were attempting to make themselves self-sufficient.

The matter of unwrapped food and the unsatisfactory condition of certain kinds of food exposed in stores was brought to the attention of the board by Aid. J. W. Findlay. He suggested that the board should have the health officer prepare several articles dealing with the unsatisfactory condition of food, and suggest that such articles be placed in the press.

Dr. Jenkins said he would prepare the necessary material, and the case was adjourned for a week. A complaint was made against the re-opening of the agency at 128 and 129 street, and at 128 and 129 street.

The "seven-year-old victim of the alleged breach of the act in the hospital," explained the Prosecutor.

Claude Bush, truck driver, was released on $400 bail after pleading not guilty to a count of being intoxicated in charge of a car. The case arose from an accident on the bridge late Wednesday night when the truck, driven by Bush, struck a car.

A remark for sentence was given William Spink, student, who pleaded guilty to the charge of being intoxicated while another acquaintance of one of the students was in the room who is fighting a bootleg charge.

Alfred C. Jolumen, 71-year-old Sunday school teacher, was sentenced to a six month term without hard labor following his conviction Thursday morning of a breach of the juvenile delinquency act. The accused man had interfered with his pupils, five boys and a girl, keeping them in the room overnight in a room.

Donald N. Montgomery entered a plea of not guilty to a breach of

HOUSE DEALS WITH HIGHWAY TRAFFIC ACT

Amendment Submitted by Alberta Motor Association is Adopted

Lights and reflectors on automobiles occupied the attention of the legislature for a considerable period on Wednesday while discussion took place on the bill to amend the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, which compels the use of reflectors or lights.

The bill was all but passed through the committee of the whole house, then remaining one section to be re-drafted and again submitted to the house for consideration.

The bill provides that where lights are to be used by vehicle on a highway, in addition to stationary, and requires all vehicles on a main or secondary highway when in motion or stationary, to have a light or reflector on the rear.

CLAUSE AMENDED

This clause of the bill as originally drafted, was amended by amendment No. 1, which provided for "main or secondary" on which the provisions would apply.

On motion of Hon. D. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, the bill was amended to read that where lights are to be used by vehicle on a highway, in addition to stationary, and requires all vehicles on a main or secondary highway when in motion or stationary, to have a light or reflector on the rear.

Several members pressed for compelling the use of reflectors on all highways. In opposition to this Hon. D. L. McPherson, minister of public works, pointed out that there were thousands of miles of highways on which no motor cars travelled and there was no need of compelling the use of reflectors on all highways.

PASSENGER RESTRICTION

The house also approved of amendment No. 2, which provided for the restriction regarding carrying of passengers, the executive of the Northern Alberta Game and Fish Commission is invited to attend.

A fly and ball casting show has been arranged for by the executive of the Northern Alberta Game and Fish Commission, the executive of the Northern Alberta Game and Fish Commission is invited to attend.

Large permits issued by the city building department recently for the erection of a new building at 727 1/2 street, 3000 C. Anderson, alterations and repairs to building at 1272 1/2 street, 4800 H. J. Nudt, addition to frame dwelling at 1298 26 street.

For the purpose of setting the date for the nominating convention to name candidates to contest the six Edmonton seats in the provincial legislature and to arrange for primaries, the executive of the Edmonton Provincial Liberal Association will meet in the Young Liberal club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock.

A much greater consumption of gasoline and more revenue for the government if an eight-cent gasoline tax had been imposed.

EARL GRAHAM, ex-salvage man, "It would be a grand thing for us motorists if the license fee were reduced. The government need have no fear of losing revenue under such a system. There would be a sudden jump in the number of people driving cars and those who are now operating machines would take them out earlier in the year."

MISS MARION CAWSEY, Edmonton Public School Board employee and motorist: "It appears to me that this is a move in the right direction. It would mean that the person using the roads most would be paying the most. Under our present system the motorist who drives 10,000 miles a year is paying the government as much for the use of the highways as the person who drives 1,000 miles."

KENNETH PRICE, 80 street, motorist: "It is time the government gave more consideration to motorists who after all, pay a good deal of the cost of the highway system. It would be a big help to the government if the license fee were reduced to 50 cents. And the government would be paying more for the gasoline tax than the license reduction would give us, but then we would be paying this tax in the form of a license fee and the expense wouldn't be felt so keenly."

Political Reaction

BERNARD LEADER PEASANTS AGAINST DICTATOR'S RULE

Preservation of British Institutions, Faith in Principles of Peace Work, Health, Progress Urged by Hon. W. R. Mackenzie King.

NORWICH, Ont., April 12.—Speaking in the interests of A. S. Bennett, Liberal candidate in the South Oxford federal by-election, Hon. W. R. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal leader, addressed two meetings in this district yesterday.

Canada had to decide between dictatorship or preservation of British institutions, he declared yesterday. "The latter, I am sure, might be a speech at Tillamook."

"I wonder if you realize to what extent your parliamentary institutions have been shot to pieces in this country," said the Liberal leader. "Today we are in the midst of a world social revolution and the people before us is where it is going to end."

Some countries had planned work of dictators, while others had some part of their faith in the principles of peace work, health, progress. The nation which followed their laws on these principles were those that would enjoy peace and prosperity.

NATIONS STRUGGLING

Mr. King said Italy, Russia, Germany and Austria had eliminated representative government. In the United States, President Roosevelt had been given great powers, taking away almost completely from Congress, to deal with an emergency situation. But the executive branch of the government—the president and his cabinet—had no authority in Congress.

Under the British system, he continued, the Prime Minister was chosen from the elected members of parliament and he could not remove his authority only from parliament. Mr. King then launched a tirade against Prime Minister Bennett's action here to give into the hands of a few years ago the government of Canada a democratic constitution.

At a special session in 1930, called to deal with unemployment, Mr. Bennett had been elected to raise the tariffs. Later, Prime Minister Bennett was elected to raise the tariffs. Later, Prime Minister Bennett was elected to raise the tariffs. Later, Prime Minister Bennett was elected to raise the tariffs.

ATTACKS BENNETT CLAUSE

Mr. Bennett's policies had tended to destroy the parliament of the executive. The Liberal leader said that the Bennett clause of the Unemployment Relief Act, under which the government could do whatever it pleased when parliament was not in session, was a blow to the point of view of a general election.

The spectacle was presented of the four western provinces voting their premier with extraordinary power and Mr. Bennett acting as a pretext for seeking similar action in the Dominion government. Thus the provincial and Dominion governments were united in common, aiming wherever it went to reach each other.

How long would Canada remain united under such circumstances? Mr. King asked.

If the present election went to the fifth affidavit, he said, it would be the fifth affidavit to get Mr. Bennett back on to office. Should Mr. Bennett have to get back on to office, he would not be following the wishes of British parliamentary institutions.

Typical Girl Is

LOVELY, SMART, SOPHISTICATED

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 12.—Solicited to the tips of her pointed finger nails, the typical modern girl knows the world and its ways and is a combination of broad-mindedness and good sense, according to a study by the McClelland Advertising Agency, which is being made for the National Advertising Council.

The 1934 girl is a lovely creature," he says. "She doesn't think it smart to take a drink. She is less than 30, but she uses much beauty than her older sisters displayed at her age."

There is a much more mature, her makeup, but it is not so much as the young woman of today seeks to emphasize her femininity at the same time. She is today's individual actress.

Over, frailer relationships between parents and children have done much to make the girl of today the admirable character she is. He thinks. He calls her a "strange creature" and is in the line of Victorianism.

TRANS OF -BILL LEWIS-

For most of those who get their sportive enjoyment by watching this hockey game or that ball game, there comes a time of year when the means of satisfying a desire to view any such entertainment is absolutely lost. . . . And we're at that period right now. . . . Hockey's all over—and baseball won't start for a month at the earliest. . . . Even for those who get a "kick" out of watching the N.H.L. results from afar, there is no pleasure in watching the triumph of Chicago in the Stanley cup series Tuesday night. . . . Big league baseball, by the way, does not get underway until next week. . . . So we're really at the most quiet time of the various seasons. . . .

Thus, nothing is about the only form of amusement at the present time—and most of the golfers figure their game actually are amusing at this particular time. . . . There are plenty of them out, though, getting in their early-season . . .

Friday night will see a break in the almost two-week slumber, however, when Joe Driscoll presents the second All-Star wrestling card since he went into the business of promoting these grip-and-grime affairs. . . .

Losers score first
Each is a better-than-average wrestler, as well as being a real showman in the ring. . . .

Monck has really turned on the heat last night to show that he is a better (or about 200 of them) just what is the difference between Canadian and American amateur hockey. . . .

New York Rangers have purchased the Jewish defense player, Alex Levinsky, from Toronto Maple Leafs, according to a report appearing elsewhere in these columns. . . .

Lester has been looking at a lot of amateur stars this season and was most of them he liked on a try-out basis, which is great for the club but no good for the player. . . .

Notice, too, that a juvenile baseball team is being formed here for this summer. . . .

HAWKS WALLOP DETROIT SQUAD BY 13-3 SCORE

Tired Champions From Maritimes Sweep For Final Kill and Take North America Amateur Championship

MAPLE LEAF GARDENS, TORONTO, April 12.—Monck Hawks captured their third win for the first time in a couple of weeks here Wednesday night and won the North American amateur hockey championship with a landslide victory over Detroit White Stars, United States titleholders, 13-3.

Only 250 or so spectators sat in on the big killing as the Allan cup champions went systematically to work to see how many goals they could score against a team they had previously outclassed twice on the form sheets but beaten only once on the score card.

Stars won the first of the three games here last Saturday night by 2-1 in overtime, and the Hawks evened the count by winning 4-1 on Sunday.

FLEET CHAMPIONS TRY THROUGHOUT
With the title at stake, the fleet brigade from the Maritimes went into high gear at the start last night and were seeking goal number 14 at the end of the first period.

Everybody on the Monck line except goalie Jimmie Foster took a hand in the scoring and everybody scored. . . .

They bunched in three more in the middle stanza while the American side was still trying to get its feet under it.

COAST CAGERS WIN BY 46-31 OVER RAYMOND

Vancouver Province Has Lead in Men's Hoop Play-offs

RAYMOND, Alta., April 12.—Vancouver Province last night defeated the Toronto "Ladies" 46-31, in the first game of a two-out-of-three series in the interprovincial senior men's basketball play-offs. The second game will be played here Friday, the winners of the series to meet Montreal.

The coast invaders, who led 25-14 at half time, overwhelmed their effectiveness to "Long John" Purvis, their centre, who controlled the tip-off. Posted under the basket, Purvis' basketry was superb. In the first half, he scored 18 points and took high scoring honours.

STAR IS WATCHED
Red Kirkham, high-scoring forward of the Alberta Senior League, was completely smothered and scored only four points. Nilsson's effectiveness was marred by three personal fouls early in the first period while he was endeavoring to stand off Purvis' attacks under the net.

The visitors uncovered a fast-breaking offensive and the Jacks were slow in getting down the floor. They were also inaccurate in their shooting, being too closely guarded to play their usual inside offensive game.

LINEUPS
Vancouver: Kensington (B), McInnis (B), Purvis (B), MacDonald (B), Armstrong (B), Burnside (B), Smith, Chatter, Helm, Will, Total, 46.

CLEANING THE BALL

Local rules and so-called winter rules under which golf is played at times have a tendency to make players rather careless of the rules of golf as laid down by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews. Evidence of this, for instance, may be seen in the fact that the rules of golf make it necessary for a player to clean his ball with a towel or cloth before he plays it. This is a rule which is often overlooked.

Perhaps the reader will remember the instance of the ladies' team in Britain which forfeited a hole in an important match because one of the players picked up a ball in the putting green and wiped it free of mud after her partner had played a putt. The local rule in this case permitted removing mud adhering to a ball, "but the putting green before putting."

This local rule is in effect on many Canadian courses and on some of them, the words "before putting" are omitted. Whether or not it is a fair ruling to all players taking part in a competition is an open question. It is a handicap to a player who is not so lucky as to have a clean ball.

However, there is a room for discussion as to when a ball may be cleaned. Certainly, unless cleaning the ball is done before it is played, it is an infraction of the rules.

When a ball is lifted, it is to be dropped or replaced under the rules, as for instance, a ball which has been lifted and replaced "under repair" is a ball in casual play.

So when a ball is lifted, it is to be dropped or replaced under the rules, as for instance, a ball which has been lifted and replaced "under repair" is a ball in casual play.

Softball Loop Expects Large Entry Increase

A well-attended meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Softball Association was held last night in the "Y" building when last season's officers were discussed and a help-up for the annual meeting made. Starting in 1934 the Y.S.A. expects to have built up such a big following that it will be necessary to have a large loop good for another increase this year with emphasis on the high class amateur league of restricted size.

SKIPS NAMED AT EDMONTON BOWLING CLUB

Planning Large Program For This Season

Prospects for a successful season at the Edmonton Bowling Club's greens on Saskatchewan Drive seem bright, as indicated by the large attendance at the annual meeting of the members held Tuesday night in the King Edward school.

President Jack R. Hunkah occupied the chair and the important business before the meeting was easily handled. At the opening of the proceedings the President referred to the lengthy lines which had built up one of the club's members.

The club's members, who are supposed to tip from $1 to $2 for the cigars and refreshments, will then hand the rest to the "number one boy" for distribution among the servers.

It is a gala day when the master of the house sends out a wedding gift. The recipient must pay the better 10 per cent of the estimated value of what he receives, as the tip is wrapped in red paper. It is the tip that the master will be deeply offended at the implication that he sent a cheap present.

At lavish feasts the guests are supposed to tip from $1 to $2 for the cigars and refreshments, will then hand the rest to the "number one boy" for distribution among the servers.

Household "Kitty" Helps

GUESTS EXPECTED TO "CHIP-IN"

Pay Servants in China

SHANGHAI, China, April 12.—An investigation of social usage in Shanghai reveals the fact that even wealthy Chinese families pay their servants only one-third or even one-fourth of the wages paid by the large attendance at the annual meeting of the members held Tuesday night in the King Edward school.

The Chinese habit of tipping lavishly accounts for the difference in the wage scale. No guest in a Chinese home ever thinks of leaving without handing out a "chip-in" or tip—the money usually being wrapped in red paper for good luck.

ON SPORT

BY CHARLES TODD

A very good example of "loyalty to the school" was shown during the recent bowling season. Soon after the league got under way there were no less than 16 teams from McDougall, Garsau, Victoria, Westminster and Seaside.

When the league was drawn to a close only five teams from Garsau and Seaside were left. The McDougall Commercial were the only two high schools not to drop out entirely.

Noel MacDonald, elite skinner of the Edmonton Grays, was a great showman in the recent series at the coast. Noel picked up his hat at Westminster where she starred on the juniors. From there she went over to Seaside where she was a main attraction in the noble art of tossing the ball through the hoop. "This year she is a Commercial at McDougall but there is no senior team for girls as she does not play under the school rules."

House league basketballing gets under way on Monday at Commercial. The girls' team is the home stretch and it will be long until they will start their play-offs.
